Assignment 5.2

bioSite: Ideas, Sketches, and Inspiration

Person:

Ryan Smith

Bio (minimum of 250 words):

Ryan Smith is from San Diego, California, and studied software engineering at Western Governors University and has a nano degree through Udacity. He acquired an internship with AT&T as a software developer. At the end of the six-month internship, he received a full-time offer as a software engineer with AT&T in Los Angeles, California. In California, he met Kody Pope, who was working towards a bachelor's degree in acting at the American Musical Dramatic Academy College and Conservatory of the Performing Arts in Hollywood, California. The two fell in love. After being together for three years, they moved in together on Valentine's Day. Together, the two of them got their third family member, a Yorkshire Terrier named Pepsi, who is a jealous little brat.

Ryan enjoys escape rooms, where you are locked in a room, although not actually locked in, and you solve a series of games, puzzles, or challenges to get out of the game. All must be done typically within one hour. You beat the game and escape if you leave the room within one hour. If the timer runs out before you can get out, you lose. However, part of the fun is that people watch you on a computer screen through cameras stationed throughout the room. They are there to help guide you on your quest to get out of the room. Part of the fun is never asking for help; they are there if needed. Also, depending on how challenging the room is, part of the fun is that you usually get a set number of questions to ask that do not count against your score. Typically, it is three questions. If you must ask more than three questions to get out within the hour, technically, you did not beat the room.

Ryan also really enjoys Korean barbecue. This is typically when you sit at a table with a grill in the center of the table, and raw meat is given to you to cook at your desired doneness. One of his favorite meats to cook is spicy pork bulgogi, thinly sliced pork seasoned with various spices to give it a juicy little kick.

Growing up and even to this day, Ryan's absolute favorite band is ABBA. If you were to ask him to sing a karaoke song or go out of karaoke with him, he would surely pick any song, and I do mean any song, from ABBA. Ryan also enjoys podcasts. One of his favorite podcasts is the No Sleep podcast, a series of stories that are typically horror fiction and self-contained within the podcast, meaning one podcast is one horror story, and the second would be an unrelated, horror-themed story.

To match this typical horror theme, his favorite TV and film genre is horror or something unorthodox, like his favorite TV show, A Series of Unfortunate Events. The show follows three children who go on a journey and adventure together where these awful or rather unfortunate events continuously happen to these children. It is not a comedy, but the show does bring a good laugh.

Again, following this theme, his favorite book, without a doubt, is Harry Potter. Specifically, The Order of the Phoenix and his favorite part of The Order of the Phoenix is when the children break into the Department of Mysteries to rescue Sirius Black. A seriously eventful moment that leads to one of the children even performing an enormously powerful spell that does something grand, but I do not want to spoil it, so I will leave it at that.

Interview:

How do you spend your free time?

I spend my free time playing video games and exploring the city I moved to. Going to escape rooms. And hang out with my dog.

What is your favorite food?

Korean BBQ, I specifically like spicy pork bulgogi. It is savory, salty pork, thinly sliced, that you grill on a grill that is in the center of your table. It has slight heat to it.

Do you listen to any podcasts?

Yes, I listen to the no sleep podcast. (Research no sleep podcast.)

Have you heard of [movie or TV show you enjoy]?

A Series of Unfortunate Events. It is a TV show about three children who need to escape Count Olaf who wants to steal their fortune.

What is your favorite thing to do on the weekend?

Go out to a fun restaurant or new restaurant and then do a fun activity like an escape room.

Do you have any pets?

Yes, a yorkie named Pepsi. He is truly sassy. My favorite moment is when Kody got a Covid shot and needed to lie down. He, of course, Kody lay on the opposite arm, from which he got his shot. Pepsi wanted to play with Kody, but Kody just wanted to rest because he was feeling unwell from the Covid shot, so Pepsi got up on the back of the sofa, went right above Kody's arm, and then jumped right on Kody's arm exactly where Kody had gotten his shot.

Do you have a favorite book?

Harry potter. My favorite on order the phenix. My favorite moment from the book is the department of mysteries.
